Pullman Melbourne on the Park

ASCI 2019, the peak gathering for supply chain leaders will bring together local and international supply chain managers in the ongoing goal of professionalising the field of supply chain management.

High quality learning opportunities will come to the fore over the 2 days, with a comprehensive 3 streamed conference program with 50+ practical case study, expert insight and interactive discussion sessions led by local and international supply chain leaders from a broad range of industries.

Unparalleled networking with over 200 senior supply chain professionals will also be available throughout our conference breaks, official networking reception and breakfast networking sessions.

Professional development will also offered through in-depth workshops and the popular ASCI Leadership Challenge – offering attendees the chance to really test their supply chain management prowess through this simulated supply chain game, with lots of twists and surprises and the chance to win the esteemed Challenge Cup.

Attend the ASCI2019 conference and contribute 20 ASCI CPD points towards your compulsory 75 points over three years.

This conference can also be used to go towards APICS certification maintenance. Points will be allocated at APICS discretion.
